Highlights

- ▶ Intesa Sanpaolo's [ISP] Q2 2023 net income surged 74% Y/Y to EUR2.27 bln, comfortably beating S&P Capital IQ consensus estimate of EUR1.86 bln. The result was driven by higher revenues [+19%], as net interest income increased by 71% to EUR3.6 bln, and a decline in loan loss provisions to EUR367 mln from EUR730 mln, benefiting from recoveries relating to exposure to Russia and Ukraine. We see consensus upgrades ahead following ISP's upward revision in its 2023 guidance, now expecting net income of well above EUR7 bln [~EUR7 bln previously].
- ▶ For 2023, we expect ISP's net interest income will be boosted by the higher interest rate environment in Europe. We expect its fee and commission income to show a comeback amid potential market recovery. Despite the inflationary environment, we think ISP should be able to keep operating costs in check due to past efforts to reduce cost and increase operating efficiency. Loan loss provisions will most likely edge higher due to increasing macro uncertainty, but we believe this will still be at a manageable level, given ISP's improving asset quality.
- ▶ We raise our EPS forecasts to EUR0.40 [EUR.36] for 2023 and EUR0.41 [EUR0.38] for 2024.

Investment Rationale/Risk

- ▶ Our recommendation is 4-STARS [Buy]. We remain positive on ISP's outlook despite risk of deterioration of the Italian economy given interest rate tailwinds, ISP's strong cost control, and its improving asset quality [i.e., declining NPL ratio and NPL stock]. ISP unveiled an ambitious 2022-2025 Business Plan, aiming to add EUR2.3 billion in profits by 2025, which we think the company can exceed given the boost from rising interest rates. This will be supplemented by net commission and fee income from the insurance business, accounting for 57% of ISP's operating income by 2025, up from 54% in 2021. ISP's capital return ability remains top of class, with an estimated dividend yield ~11.0% in 2023 (vs. peer average of ~7%) and a EUR22 billion capital distribution target that is on track, with potential upside, in our view.
- ▶ Key downside risks include major economic slowdown or prolonged recession in key markets, deterioration in asset quality, and failure to deliver financial targets under its business plan.
- ▶ We raise our 12-month target price for ISP to EUR3.00 [EUR2.80], reflecting a P/B of 0.84x, above its 5-year average P/B of 0.64x, justified in our view by the higher interest rate environment.

Analyst's Risk Assessment

LOW MEDIUM HIGH

Our risk assessment reflects the cyclicity of the banking business and the high leverage of the industry. Revenue diversification, conservative risk management, and a largely retail-oriented model partially mitigate risks.

Intesa Sanpaolo S.p.A.

Business Summary May 16, 2023

COMPANY OVERVIEW: Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP] is the leading banking group in Italy. The Group is the leader in Italy in all business areas [retail, corporate, and wealth management], offering its services to 13.6 million customers through a network of approximately 3,500 branches well distributed throughout the country with market shares no lower than 12% in most Italian regions. ISP has a strategic international presence, with over 950 branches and 7.1 million customers, comprising subsidiaries operating in commercial banking in 12 countries in Central Eastern Europe and Middle Eastern and North African areas and an international network of specialists in support of corporate customers across 25 countries, in particular in the Middle East and North Africa and in those areas where Italian companies are most active.

BUSINESS SEGMENTS: ISP's operations are organized into six business segments for reporting purposes: 1) Banca dei Territori [41% of its 2022 revenue] is the Italian retail banking division. It aggregates a number of regional and sub-regional banks. Following reorganization at the beginning of 2012, the division comprises a single brand at the local level and simplified operational units.

2) Corporate & Investment Banking [20%] serves corporate and institutional clients in Italy and abroad and offers services ranging from M&A advisory to factoring, including, among others, capital market activities and custody.

3) International Subsidiary Banks [10%] comprises ISP's operations outside of Italy. It has a selective presence in Central-Eastern Europe, the Middle East, and North Africa.

4) Private Banking [12%] includes the brands Fideuram, Intensa Sanpaolo Private Banking, and Sirefid. The division has 230 branches and 5,942 private bankers serving 92,000 private clients and high-net-worth individuals.

5) Insurance [8%] offers insurance and pension products to clients.

6) Asset Management [5%] provides the distribution network with investment products such as mutual funds. It operates under the brand Eurizon Capital.

CORPORATE STRATEGY: In the new Business Plan [2022-2025], the Group has set itself the ambitious goal of becoming a Wealth Management, Protection & Advisory leader in Europe, distinguished by zero NPLs, by a strong digital push, and by a focus on commissions, while continuing to excel in ESG and offering the best professional experience. This set of ingredients will also enable ISP to be the best investment for shareholders, both in the short and in the medium-long term. This goal will be achieved via key pillars:

1) massive upfront de-risking, slashing cost of risk. The Group will pursue a structural strategy of de-risking, with the ambition to become a Zero-NPL bank, ranking among the best in Europe in terms of NPL ratios and stock. The main initiatives include massive NPL stock reduction and continuous preemption through a modular strategy. Targets include net NPL ratio of about 1% and cost of risk of about 40 bps.

2) structural cost reduction, enabled by technology. Strengthening the Bank's omnichannel propositions and becoming the leader in Europe in terms of operational efficiency. To do so, ISP will create a new Digital Bank [named Isybank] and will continue to invest strongly in technology, including through partnerships with top fintechs and artificial intelligence players. The main initiatives include: a new Digital Bank and footprint optimization, workforce renewal, smart real estate management, advanced analytics-empowered cost management, and IT efficiency. Targets include about EUR2 billion cost savings and around EUR5 billion investments in technology and growth.

3) growth in commissions, driven by Wealth Management, Protection, & Advisory. In addition to strong Wealth Management & Protection capabilities, Advisory will be a key area for value creation in the new Plan. ISP will continue to leverage on the Group's own product factories in Asset management, Life insurance, and Protection. The Bank will be a reference partner for all SME & Corporate clients, helping them to fully leverage Recovery Plan opportunities. The main initiatives include a dedicated service model for Exclusive clients, strengthened leadership in Private Banking, continuous focus on fully-owned product factories [Asset management and Insurance], further growth in the payments business, doubling-down on Advisory for all Corporate clients, and growth across International Subsidiary Banks businesses. Targets include about EUR100 billion growth in assets under management [AUM] and about 57% of revenues from fee-based business.

4) significant ESG commitment, with a world-class position in Social Impact and strong focus on climate. Targets include around EUR25 billion in social lending/contribution to society and about EUR90 billion in new loans to support the green transition.

Over the time horizon of the 2022-2025 Business Plan, ISP envisages a cash dividend distribution, corresponding to a payout ratio, based on the consolidated net income, of 70% each year of the plan.

Intesa Sanpaolo S.p.A.Industry Outlook

Our fundamental outlook on EMEA Financials for the next 12 months is neutral. We believe the industry in general will benefit from the higher interest rate environment. This is balanced by growing concerns about the economy, including slower growth and persistent inflation.

Year-to-date through 30 September 2023, the S&P Europe 350 Financials Index was up 9.2%, outperforming the broader market, represented by the S&P Europe 350 Index, which recorded a gain of 6.5% during the same period.

For the bank sub-industry, we have a neutral view. Signs of easing interest rate tailwind have gathered momentum even as the European Central Bank (ECB) raised its interest rate for the 10th consecutive time in September 2023 by another 0.25%-pts to an all-time high of 4.0%. The ECB has signaled its intention to keep rates on hold in the future. That said, we still expect banks to see expanding net interest income and net interest margins in H2 2023. We expect this to normalize in 2024 due to rising pass-through rates, a gradual decline in sector-wide customer deposits, peaking policy rates, slower loans growth, and weaker macroeconomic prospects. We see higher operating expenses driven by wages and general inflation, IT, and compliance. We expect rising loan loss provisions in the coming months as consumers and businesses will start to feel the negative impact from higher interest rates and inflation.

Our fundamental outlook for the insurance sub-industry is neutral. The challenge for life insurers in managing asset-liability and duration (given the long-term nature of policyholder obligations) caused by the rapid interest rate hikes should ease, in our view, as the uptrend in interest rates is likely to end in the near term. We expect improving investment yields to support the earnings of life insurers but are wary of slowing growth in gross written premiums amid our anticipated lackluster economic activities in Europe. For P&C insurers, we think profitability is set to improve amid our anticipation of easing heavy natural catastrophe claims that plagued most P&C insurers in recent years, moderated claim cost inflation, and firm pricing of new coverages. As for the reinsurers, consensus earnings expectations are becoming lofty, in our opinion, fully accounting for the benefit of the hardening market in the reinsurance segment. We note that the average projected shareholder cash yield of reinsurers is merely 5%, nearly half of the projected cash yield of the insurance sub-industry.

We are also neutral on the asset management sub-industry, where we expect asset under management (AUM) growth to slow down amid macro uncertainties. Two of the main positive factors for AUM growth are new products and new geographic markets. Investments that have been made to target new sources of AUM in the retail space more efficiently and to attract new mandates (especially from institutional investors) by offering extended quantitative and big data solutions are also potential drivers for AUM growth, in our view. Despite relatively strong expectations for top-line growth, fee income is expected to grow more slowly, which implies further falls in fee margin (as a percentage of AUM).

Analyst Research Notes and other Company News

July 31, 2023

12:13 AM ET... CFRA Reiterates Buy Opinion on Shares of Intesa Sanpaolo S.p.A. [ISP IM 2.61*]:

We raise our 12-month target price for Intesa Sanpaolo to EUR3.00 [EUR2.80], reflecting a P/B of 0.84x, above its 5-year average P/B of 0.64x, justified in our view by the higher interest rate environment. We raise our EPS forecasts to EUR0.40 [EUR.36] for 2023 and EUR0.41 [EUR0.38] for 2024. ISP's Q2 2023 net income surged 74% Y/Y to EUR2.27 bln, comfortably beating S&P Capital IQ consensus estimate of EUR1.86 bln. The result was driven by higher revenues (+19%), as net interest income increased by 71% to EUR3.6 bln and a decline in loan loss provisions to EUR367 mln from EUR730 mln, benefiting from recoveries relating to exposure to Russia and Ukraine. We see consensus upgrades ahead following ISP's upward revision in its 2023 guidance, now expecting net income of well above EUR7 bln [-EUR7 bln previously]. We remain positive on ISP due to its improving profitability and asset quality profile as it continues to execute its 2022-2025 Business Plan. / Firdaus Ibrahim, CFA

May 08, 2023

12:49 AM ET... CFRA Keeps Buy Opinion on Shares of Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP IM 2.43*]:

We keep our target price for Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP] at EUR2.80, reflecting a P/B of 0.89x, above its 5-year average P/B of 0.64x, justified in our view by the higher interest rate environment. We raise our EPS forecasts to EUR0.36 [from EUR0.32] for 2023 and EUR0.38 [from EUR0.35] for 2024. Q1 2023 net income surged 87% Y/Y to EUR1.95 bln, significantly higher than consensus' EUR1.53 bln, mainly driven by higher net interest income [NII, +66%], which continues to benefit from the higher interest rates. Lower loan loss provisions [-73%, absence of charges related to Russia in Q1 2022] and a controlled rise in operating expenses [+0.5%] also helped. Following the strong result, ISP gave clearer guidance for 2023, now expecting NII to exceed EUR13 bln and net income of ~EUR7 bln. Longer term, we remain positive on ISP prospects, driven by its de-risking efforts, cost reduction initiatives, and its ambition to grow commissions income from Wealth Management, Protection, and Advisory. / Firdaus Ibrahim, CFA

February 06, 2023

12:41 AM ET... CFRA Keeps Buy Opinion on Shares of Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP IM 2.38*]:

We raise our 12-month target price for Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP] to EUR2.80 [from EUR2.40], reflecting consensus forward P/B of 0.86x, a premium to peer average P/B of 0.65x, justified in our view by ISP's higher forward ROE and projected dividend yield. We raise our 2023 EPS to EUR0.32 [from EUR.30] and introduce 2024 EPS of EUR0.35. Q4 2022 net income of EUR1.07 bln beat S&P Capital IQ consensus estimate of EUR952 mln. Pre-tax income more than tripled to EUR1.3 bln from Q4 2021 as ISP's net interest income [+57%] benefited from rising interest rates. The result was also helped by lower loan loss provisions [-3%] and lower other provisions [-73%], as the previous year included additional adjustments to accelerate NPL deleveraging. ISP's shares closed 3% down on Friday as the market was disappointed with its 2023 net profit guidance of more than EUR5.5 bln. However, we see more upside and expect ISP to raise its guidance as the European Central Bank continues to raise rates in 2023. / Firdaus Ibrahim, CFA

11:21 PM ET... CFRA Keeps Buy Opinion on Shares of Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP IM 2.07*]:

We raise our 12-month target price to EUR2.40 [EUR2.10], reflecting consensus forward P/B of 0.7x, a premium to peer average P/B of 0.5x, justified in our view by ISP's higher projected dividend yield. ISP's Q3 2022 net income fell 5% Y/Y to EUR930 mln but was ahead of consensus estimate of EUR802 mln. The lower result was mainly due to a slight decline in revenues [-2%], dragged by lower net fee and commission income [-7%, due to subdued management, dealing and consultancy activities] and lower valuation of financial assets and liabilities. We believe its underlying results were solid, with higher net interest income [+19% driven by higher volume and improving spread], stable operating costs, and lower loan loss provision. We see momentum in the delivery of ISP's 2022-2025, particularly in driving down non-performing loans, which we think is key amid increasing macro uncertainties. Higher interest rates will also help the bank to achieve its profitability targets, in our view. / Firdaus Ibrahim, CFA

02:00 AM ET... CFRA Keeps Buy Opinion on Shares of Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP IM 1.73*]:

We adjust our 12-month target price to EUR2.10 [from EUR2.20], reflecting consensus forward P/B of 0.69x, a premium to peer average P/B of 0.63x, justified in our view by ISP's higher projected dividend yield [8.7% vs. peers' 6.0%]. Q2 2022 net income fell 12% Y/Y to EUR1.3 billion, mainly due to higher taxes, but was significantly ahead of S&P Capital IQ consensus estimate of EUR1.0 billion. Pre-tax profit, however, up strongly by 24% to EUR2.1 billion, driven by higher net interest income [+3] and lower operating expenses [-3%]. These more than offset lower fee and commission income [-5%], which were hit by decline in dealing, placement, and asset management revenues. Loan loss provisions was higher at EUR730 million vs. EUR599 million. We remain positive on ISP's outlook despite risk of deterioration of the Italian economy given interest rate tailwinds, ISP's strong cost control, and its improving asset quality [i.e., declining NPL ratio and NPL stock]. / Firdaus Ibrahim, CFA

May 09, 2022

01:44 AM ET... CFRA Keeps Buy Opinion on Shares of Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP IM 1.88*]:

We trim our 12-month target price for Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP] to EUR2.20 [from EUR3.20], reflecting a P/B of 0.67x, largely in line with European banks P/B average, justified in our view by their similar ROE profile. We cut our 2022 EPS forecast to EUR0.22 [from EUR0.28]. ISP's Q1 2022 net income was down 33% Y/Y to EUR1.02 billion but was higher than the EUR717 million expected by S&P Capital IQ consensus. ISP cut its 2022 profit guidance to EUR4 billion [previous: EUR5 billion] after its results was hit by EUR800 million charge to cover potential losses from its exposure to Russia. Excluding this, its net income would have risen 10%, reflecting a rather flat revenue and lower operating expenses. Despite the near-term headwinds from geopolitical unrest, we think IPS will deliver on its long-term 2025 targets, including payout goals, given its sound underlying performance, improving asset quality trend, and strong capital position. / Firdaus Ibrahim, CFA

February 04, 2022

10:57 AM ET... CFRA Keeps Buy Opinion on Shares of Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP IM 2.73*]:

We raise our 12-month target price for Intesa Sanpaolo [ISP] to EUR3.2 [up from EUR2.8], reflecting a P/B of 0.97x, a premium to the peer average P/B of 0.82x, justified, in our view, by ISP's better operating efficiency and higher dividend yield. We keep our 2022 EPS forecast of EUR0.28 and introduce 2023 EPS of EUR0.30. ISP's Q4 2021 net income of EUR179 million beat the S&P Capital IQ consensus estimate of EUR120 million. The result was a major improvement over net loss of EUR3.1 billion a year ago, which was negatively impacted by charges related to the UBI Banca acquisition. ISP's underlying performance was underwhelming, as pre-provision profit fell 9% Y/Y, dragged by lower net interest income [-6%] and higher operating expenses [+4%]. ISP unveiled an ambitious 2022-2025 Business Plan, aiming to add EUR2.3 billion in profits by 2025 and return EUR22 billion to shareholders. We believe ISP will be able to achieve these targets, given its good track record in delivering past business plans. / Firdaus Ibrahim, CFA

Glossary

STARS

Since January 1, 1987, CFRA Equity and Fund Research Services, and its predecessor S&P Capital IQ Equity Research has ranked a universe of U.S. common stocks, ADRs [American Depositary Receipts], and ADSs [American Depositary Shares] based on a given equity's potential for future performance. Similarly, we have ranked Asian and European equities since June 30, 2002. Under proprietary STARS [Stock Appreciation Ranking System], equity analysts rank equities according to their individual forecast of an equity's future total return potential versus the expected total return of a relevant benchmark [e.g., a regional index (MSCI AC Asia Pacific Index, MSCI AC Europe Index or S&P 500® Index)], based on a 12-month time horizon. STARS was designed to help investors looking to put their investment decisions in perspective. Data used to assist in determining the STARS ranking may be the result of the analyst's own models as well as internal proprietary models resulting from dynamic data inputs.

S&P Global Market Intelligence's Quality Ranking

[also known as S&P Capital IQ Earnings & Dividend Rankings] - Growth and S&P Capital IQ Earnings & Dividend Rankings stability of earnings and dividends are deemed key elements in establishing S&P Global Market Intelligence's earnings and dividend rankings for common stocks, which are designed to capsize the nature of this record in a single symbol. It should be noted, however, that the process also takes into consideration certain adjustments and modifications deemed desirable in establishing such rankings. The final score for each stock is measured against a scoring matrix determined by analysis of the scores of a large and representative sample of stocks. The range of scores in the array of this sample has been aligned with the following ladder of rankings:

A+ Highest	B Below Average
A High	B- Lower
A Above	C Lowest
B+ Average	D In Reorganization
NC Not Ranked

EPS Estimates

CFRA's earnings per share (EPS) estimates reflect analyst projections of future EPS from continuing operations, and generally exclude various items that are viewed as special, non-recurring, or extraordinary. Also, EPS estimates reflect either forecasts of equity analysts; or, the consensus [average] EPS estimate, which are independently compiled by S&P Global Market Intelligence, a data provider to CFRA. Among the items typically excluded from EPS estimates are asset sale gains; impairment, restructuring or merger-related charges; legal and insurance settlements; in process research and development expenses; gains or losses on the extinguishment of debt; the cumulative effect of accounting changes; and earnings related to operations that have been classified by the company as discontinued. The inclusion of some items, such as stock option expense and recurring types of other charges, may vary, and depend on such factors as industry practice, analyst judgment, and the extent to which some types of data is disclosed by companies.

12-Month Target Price

The equity analyst's projection of the market price a given security will command 12 months hence, based on a combination of intrinsic, relative, and private market valuation metrics, including Fair Value.

Qualitative Risk Assessment

Reflects an equity analyst's view of a given company's operational risk, or the risk of a firm's ability to continue as an ongoing concern. The Qualitative Risk Assessment is a relative ranking to the U.S. STARS universe, and should be reflective of risk factors related to a company's operations, as opposed to risk and volatility measures associated with share prices. For an ETF this reflects on a capitalization-weighted basis, the average qualitative risk assessment assigned to holdings of the fund.

STARS Ranking system and definition:

★★★★★ 5-STARS (Strong Buy):

Total return is expected to outperform the total return of a relevant benchmark, by a notable margin over the coming 12 months, with shares rising in price on an absolute basis.

★★★★★ 4-STARS (Buy):

Disclosures

Stocks are ranked in accordance with the following ranking methodologies:

STARS Stock Reports:

Qualitative STARS rankings are determined and assigned by equity analysts. For reports containing STARS rankings refer to the Glossary section of the report for detailed methodology and the definition of STARS rankings.

Quantitative Stock Reports:

Quantitative rankings are determined by ranking a universe of common stocks based on 5 measures or model categories: Valuation, Quality, Growth, Street Sentiment, and Price Momentum. In the U.S., a sixth sub-category for Financial Health will also be displayed. Percentile scores are used to compare each company to all other companies in the same universe for each model category. The five [six] model category scores are then weighted and rolled up into a single percentile ranking for that company. For reports containing quantitative rankings refer to the Glossary section of the report for detailed methodology and the definition of Quantitative rankings.

STARS Stock Reports and Quantitative Stock Reports:

The methodologies used in STARS Stock Reports and Quantitative Stock Reports [collectively, the "Research Reports"] reflect different criteria, assumptions and analytical methods and may have differing rankings. The methodologies and data used to generate the different types of Research Reports are believed by the author and distributor reasonable and appropriate. Generally, CFRA does not generate reports with different ranking methodologies for the same issuer. However, in the event that different methodologies or data are used on the analysis of an issuer, the methodologies may lead to different views on the issuer, which may at times result in contradicting assessments of an issuer. CFRA reserves the right to alter, replace or vary models, methodologies or assumptions from time to time and without notice to clients.
